

GIOVANNI BATTISTA RIGON

CONDUCTOR

Giovanni Battista Rigon's career as an orchestra conductor began in 2001 after several years of performing as a pianist. As part of the chamber music ensemble Trio Italiano, he recorded works by Beethoven, Schubert, Schumann, Debussy and Ravel, winning the Premio Gui di Firenze award in 1990.

He has conducted at the Teatro La Fenice, Venice (Il barbiere di Siviglia, 2011 and 2014, La cambiale di matrimonio, 2013, Il regno della luna, 2018, Pimpinone, 2019), at the San Carlo theatre, Naples (La serva padrona, 2011), at the Filarmonico, Verona (La gazza ladra, 2012), at Maggio Musicale Fiorentino (La scuola de' gelosi di Salieri by Salieri, 2017), and at the Seoul Arts Center (Semiramide by Rossini, 2010).

He opened the Martina Franca Festival twice, with performances of Paisiello's I giuochi di Agrigento in 2006 and Piccinni's Il Re pastore in 2008, as well as performing at the Wildbad Rossini Festival with Adelina by Pietro Generali (2010), and at the Donizetti Festival in Bergamo with Betly (2014).

He has conducted symphonic works with several orchestras: the Filarmonica 900 of the Teatro Regio, Turin; the orchestra of the Teatro Lirico, Cagliari; the Haydn Orchestra of Bolzano; the Orchestra of Padua and the Veneto, and the Lebanese National Orchestra.

In 1992, he founded Settimane musicali (Music Weeks) at the Teatro Olimpico, Vicenza, of which he was artistic director until 2018 and for which he was awarded the Premio Abbiati in 2012. Here he conducted important works performed for the first time in the modern age, including the 1794 De Gamerra version of Il flauto magico, the 1813 Vicenza version of L'italiana in Algeri, the 1820 Naples version of Il turco in Italia, the Viardot version of Don Pasquale, and the Lichtenthal 1838 version of Il ratto dal serraglio.

His recordings as a conductor include the DVDs of the Il turco in Italia, Don Pasquale, Le nozze di Figaro, and the CDs Il flauto magico, I giuochi d'Agrigento, Il ratto dal serraglio, Adelina, Petite messe solennelle.
